Dispositive Motions: Responses to dispositive motions are due 21 days after filing of the motion, and any reply is due within 14 days of the response. After the briefing period has expired, the Court will take the motions under consideration without further notice to the parties.

Non-Dispositive Motions: Before filing a motion, the parties must confer in good faith to resolve disputes, stipulate to points of agreement, and narrow any remaining issues. Briefs: All briefs that exceed twenty pages must include a table of contents, a table of authorities, and delineated sections. The discussion of evidence must be accompanied by a specific reference by page and line where the evidence can be found in a supporting deposition or document. Any party who files depositions or deposition excerpts must include travel transcripts with an index, if available. Failure to comply strictly with these provisions could result in dismissal of the motion or appropriate sanctions. Absent a showing of exceptional circumstances, the dispositive motion deadline and the briefing deadlines will not be extended.
